

I want to bring to your attention the lawsuit I filed against Columbia U. for violating the First Amendment. It was dismissed immediately by the district judge, but the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit (17-0818) has granted my request for oral argument.

This case caught the attention of Jerry Coyne of the U. of Chicago:
<https://whyevolutionistrue.wordpress.com/2017/10/11/suing-for-teaching-evolution/>

Richard Dawkins posted a comment about it on Jerry Coyne's blog, and I sent Richard the brief and request for oral argument. In my request for oral argument, I said I wanted to explain to the court the connection between this case and the Scopes Monkey Trial.

Very truly yours,
David Roemer
<http://www.newevangelization.info>