

Dear Dr. Grier,

I'm trying to get the American Journal of Physics to retract the attached article titled, "Entropy and evolution." Equation 4b is an incorrect application of the Boltzmann equation for entropy. My correspondence about the issue is at

An article explaining why the AJP article is absurd is at

I'll be giving a lecture in New York City about the matter on March 15, 2013. In addition to Equation 4b, I'll be discussing the following:

1. Darwinism only explains the adaptation of species to the environment, not common descent.
2. Advocates of intelligent design and nonreligious dilettantes are inhibited from thinking intelligently and rationally about evolution because of anxiety about religion.
3. It is an error to think evolution violates the second law of thermodynamics, but it is a more egregious error to think evolution does not violate the second law of thermodynamics because of the sun.

There is no cost for the lecture and no ticket, but to obtain a reservation and the exact location and time click on the following link:

I've corresponded with Dr. Robert Richardson about this matter.

Very truly yours,
